User's Point of View

 - This will allow the user to, for example, add sound clips, change the display picture of the bot
- Alternatively, the bot will eventually be available through Discord's catalog of bots.
 - Users can easily add the bot to their Discord servers by going through the catalog which will provide an invite link
- The user can interact with the bot through a boatload of different commands that come with the bot
 - Commands executed in the Discord server that has the bot
